Nick Jonas does Wynwood

Nick Jonas in the hood! The pop singer recently was spotted late last month in Wynwood, re-filming his popular music video Chains. The first one came out last summer and was a little on the dark and depressing side. The newer version is fun and alive, with a block party feel, complete with scantily clad females grooving in slow-mo.

Scenes include the former boy bander go-karting in a squid-like vehicle, jogging through the area and lip syncing by the famed Wynwood Walls.

"It's really a testament to Wynwood's status on a national level as a creative, unique and artistic neighborhood," according to a release from the (obvi) proud Wynwood Business Improvement District.
